

Participatory Action Research and Action Learning Skill-sharing Workshops

4th-5th September 2010 Melbourne Australia
www.alara.net.au/worldcongress/2010/precongress

preceding 8th ALARA World Congress in Action Learning and Action Research

SATURDAY
4TH Sept 2010

9am-4pm The Way of the Horse - The Art of Leadership
Cheryl Cruttenden and Helen Gorfine, Equine therapists (Windhorse Farm, Yarra Valley) Full day $400 students $100
Discover your leadership style in group interactions with goals and horses

9am-4pm How to Change Organizations from the Outside
Peter Rennie, Leadership Australia (Augustine Centre, 2 Minona St, Hawthorn) Full day $400 students $100
Transforming failing institutions...structure, purpose, leadership, culture

2pm-5pm Everything you wanted to ask about systems thinking vis a vis action research but were too afraid to ask
Yoland Wadsworth, Danny Burns and John Barton, internationally renowned proponents of participatory action research (Augustine Centre, Hawthorn) Half day $200 students $50
A panel discussion with experts in the concepts underlying action research

SUNDAY
5TH Sept 2010

9am-4pm How can I know action research practices as participatory? Susan Goff, Cultureshift and Phil Crane, Human Services policy QUT (Augustine Centre, Hawthorn)
Full day $400 students $100
How do I identify practices which might be considered participatory?

2pm-5pm Working with Insider Action Research
David Coghlan and Rosalie Holian, organisation development, U of Dublin and RMIT, Melbourne (Bayview Eden, 6 Queens Rd, Melbourne) Half day $200
Having a "deep" understanding of an organisation as staff and researcher

Register: www.alara.net.au/worldcongress/2010/precongress

Enquire: precongress@alara.net.au; (61 3) 9819 3239 (Mish)

Image: "Arc" by John Heron, "co-operative inquiry" www.human-inquiry.com

8th ALARA World Congress 2010
Appreciating our Pasts, Comprehending
our Presents, Prefiguring our Futures