

Action Inquiry and the Global Leadership Profile

is a 3-day workshop for business leaders, consultants, coaches, researchers, and sustainability practitioners who wish to further their personal development and learn about the power and practice of Collaborative Developmental Action Inquiry—the only approach statistically confirmed as reliably generating both personal and organizational transformation.

All workshop participants take the Global Leadership Profile (GLP) and receive feedback on their centre-of-gravity, emergent, and fallback leadership action-logics. Those who wish can become authorized to use and debrief the GLP with their clients.

Offered by Bill Torbert, Danielle Conroy and Dana Carman, Action Inquiry is the only program that comprehensively blends the what, why, and how of transformational leadership development, including:

- 1) the theory of Collaborative Developmental Action Inquiry (CDAI)
- 2) the assessment of leaders' predominant action-logics (either using the GLP or in-action diagnoses), and
- 3) the ongoing practice of Action Inquiry at the personal, team, and organizational scales

The Workshop Experience

At our workshop you will never be passively hearing somebody telling you how to do it right. Rather, you will be exercising active listening and leadership, moving among peers in a community of inquiry, receiving direct feedback about your leadership impact, thereby learning together practical ways to help yourself and others:

- Assess current leadership action-logics—the centre-of-gravity, emergent and fallback perspective that guide action and influence results
- Become conscious of and shift action/ mental/ emotional habits that are limiting effectiveness
- Exercise personal power with greater flexibility and mutuality to generate personal and organizational transformation
- Develop collaborative practices that increase mindful, relational, and cultural intelligence in the wider organization
- Build capacity to lead from the inside out, confidently responding to the deepest calls of our human nature and of the natural world that holds us

*“While we can’t predict the future,
we can transform ourselves and our organizations to effectively meet it.”*

Facilitation Team

Bill Torbert – Now principal of Action Inquiry Associates and Distinguished Visiting Professor of Leadership at the University of San Diego, Bill was formerly an award-winning teacher and scholar at Yale, Harvard, and Boston College. He is also an internationally renowned consultant, and author of many books, including Action Inquiry: The Secret of Timely and Transforming Leadership, as well as Seven Transformations of Leadership, selected as one of the top ten Harvard Business Review leadership articles of all time.

Dana Carman – Dana has twenty seven years experience consulting to market leading companies on four continents moving through fundamental organisational transformations. Specialising in top team alignment, strategy implementation and multi stakeholder engagements, Dana is a pioneer in the translation of developmental theory into pragmatic solutions that are co designed and customised to fit his client's unique context. When not consulting organisations worldwide and offering leading edge programs for consultants and change agents, Dana designs and leads Learning Journeys and Vision Quests for executives and consultants that integrate the wisdom of nature and culture.

Danielle Conroy – Danielle is a specialist in the areas of transformational leadership and organisational change. With over 24 years experience working both globally in organisational development in a large multi-national Pharmaceutical company in Switzerland, and running her own consulting and training businesses, Danielle brings a broad breadth and depth to her consulting and coaching work. Through these experiences, Danielle has developed an understanding of the complexity, and the challenges and rewards of working in medium, large and matrix organisations. Danielle has facilitated, coached & consulted on many processes of change that have fostered participation and effective transitions. She inspires Senior Executives to lead and communicate with their colleagues and teams in ways that engage people in the bigger picture and raise their commitment to improving the bottom line.
